STATEMENT OF GLOBAL GATEWAY ALLIANCE ON FEDERAL FURLOUGH OF AVIATION SAFETY INSPECTORS

The following is a statement from Joseph Sitt, Chairman of Global Gateway Alliance:

“We knew the federal government shutdown would have a negative impact on delays at our airports, now we get a nasty surprise that passenger safety is being compromised, to boot.

“About 100 inspectors have been furloughed today at New York-area airports. As representatives of the largest airport system in the country, the inspectors are responsible for the safety of aircraft that account for 4,000 flights and more than 300,000 passengers every day at our airports.

“It defies common sense for the Federal Aviation Administration to determine that these safety inspectors are somehow not ‘essential.’ We can’t imagine anything more essential, and we demand that the FAA bring these inspectors back to work to ensure the safety of passengers.”
